CVHAA Patriots ATHLETICS

Central Virginia Homeschool Athletic Association

We are the Patriots! A unique and awesome home school sports organization called Central Virginia Homeschool Athletic Association (CVHAA). Our organization has been in existence since 1992 and it provides competitive athletics for basketball, soccer, baseball, volleyball and includes the Disciples Football team.

I am a student athlete in the basketball program which fields boys and girls varsity, boys junior varsity, and boys and girls middle school teams. All teams have done extremely well in their respective athletic leagues and conferences! However, unlike other school athletic programs, we must rent our gymnasium facilities for each practice and each game.

Like many schools, we must raise our own funding to help support our basketball program. The registration fee that I pay only covers a portion of the gymnasium rental fees, uniform expenses, and tournament fees. In order to assist us with fundraising efforts, CVHAA has sought and been granted the designation as a 501(c)(3) tax-exempt organization. As you may know, that means donations made by any individual or business will qualify as a tax deduction.

Would you be willing to make a tax-deductible donation on behalf of CVHAA Basketball? Your help would be most graciously appreciated.
